LIBRARY REPORT.

The Braintree library trustees have held three meetings during the year 1909. One in March at West Braintree, one in April at Randolph and one in Sept. at East Braintree. We made application for the State aid that was to be given to the smaller towns and was granted twenty-five dollars yearly aid. We received our first books from that source last June. There was two year allowance from the town in the treasury no books having been purchased with the town money of 1907 and 1908 which gave us $50, which was used for the purchase of books, some for general reading and some especially for use in schools.

We have now 714 books belonging to the town library, and the books are kept at West Braintree by Lillian Batchellor and at East Braintree by Mrs. Byron Wakefield. We also have branch library's at Peth in care of Mrs. Carl Bass, at Connecticut Corner cared for by Mrs. H. C. Phillips and Lower Branch, Mrs. Geo. Ford; Braintree Hill, Mrs. Richardson; Battles District, Mrs. Frank Smith; and the books are changed around so as to bring the library in touch with as many of our people as we can.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Citizens of the Town of Braintree:

I have the honor to present my second annual report of the schools of the town of Braintree for the school year ending March 31, 1910.

It is desirable that every resident of the town should possess some definite information relating to the work of the schools for the past year. To this end this report is submitted.

The period covered embraces the spring, fall and winter terms. These have been busy and interesting days, days fraught with many problems earnestly craving solution. Some of these have already been solved while others, it is hoped, will be during the coming year.

We are at the present time passing through a period of transition, from what might be called the old regime to the new; from the methods incident to a general and non-uniform procedure in carrying into effect the required curriculum, to a certain uniformity as to method and purpose in teaching and obtaining results.

In accordance with this change every school was put, in the fall, on a graded basis. Written examinations of all pupils above the fourth grade are given twice each term and reports of same made to parents and to your superintendent. The scholastic year begins with the fall term and ends with the spring. At the end of the spring term question papers made out by the superintendent are forwarded to teachers who give the same to their pupils as a final test of the work of the year.

A record of all work is kept on file at the superintendent's office in Randolph. Parents are invited to inspect at any time the records of work of their children and to confer freely with me regarding the same.

There is a very evident tendency among all the district schools of the state for marked improvement as to equipment and buildings. It would be a source of great satisfaction to your superintendent if the schools of our Union were second to none in these matters.

More thought and attention should be given to the construction of buildings in which our children are housed and required to live for a large part of the year. Proper sanitation and ventilation is a vital question. As all true parents desire that their children grow up healthy and strong, physically, morally and intellectually, they certainly should not overlook this matter, and thus fail to use their influence in arousing sentiment for better sanitation and ventilation in our schools.

In eight out of your ten schools the toilets are connected directly to the main school building, and in many instances are within only a few feet from the desks of the pupils and the teacher. As it is impossible to have flushed toilets without adequate water supply, the dry toilets cannot be entirely eliminated ; but conditions can be greatly improved by removing them a suitable distance from the school buildings.

I recommend that the construction and location of toilets be given immediate attention.

The school building at Connecticut Corners has been entirely renovated and extensive repairs made. A new hard wood floor has been laid, new blackboards secured, the walls wainscoated, the ceiling repaired and varnished, the foundation made more secure, a new front door installed, modern up to date pupil desks put in, and a new sliding door for the wood shed and entry provided. New toilets have been erected at a suitable distance from the main school building.

There are at present no school buildings in your town equipped with modern, adequate ventilating systems. About the only provision made is an opening in the ceiling, which is entirely without use unless outside air is admitted. This necessitates open doors or windows, and this is extremely bad both from a point of economy and health.

"In the ventilation of schools 2000 cu. ft. per hour is usually taken as the quantity of air practicable to furnish to pupils, and no system of ventilation giving a smaller supply should be allowed. No air can be too pure for school children. Each pupil should be supplied with from 25 to 30 cu. ft. per minute and this should be distributed without producing drafts, and having a temperature of not less than 60° nor more than 68° Fahr."

I believe that the heating of a school room by means of the ordinary stove is not only unjust and cruel to children, but that it is bad business and extravagant. The room cannot be uniformly warmed. The children near the stove are over heated and made uncomfortable, while those at a distance are cold and chilly ; consequently, both are liable to colds and cannot study or properly apply themselves to their work.

The same air is heated over and over, denying the pupils the amount of fresh air which nature says they must have to keep well. It is absolutely impossible to properly ventilate a school room by windows and door in the winter time. I recommend installing, as rapidly as possible, the modern ventilating stove, constructed with intake for fresh air, and auxiliary exit for foul air. This continually introduces and evenly distributes fresh air, and maintains an even heat at proper temperature.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the sentiment of the citizens in the town will back up the school directors in taking this important step.

The old dilapidated text books are being replaced with new ones as fast as possible. A quantity of new readers was purchased in the Fall and are being placed where they are much needed.

The examination of eyes and ears as required by sections 1163-1165 of the public Statutes was given, results of which were as follows :

No. of schools examined	10
“ pupils “	101
“ found defective,	47
Percent of pupils found defective,	43.63
No. of boys examined,	46
“ found defective,	21
Percent “ “	45.65
No. of girls examined,	55
“ found defective,	26
Percent “ “	47.27

Eight pupils took the free tuition and high school entrance examinations in June and August. Questions for these examinations were furnished by the state department. Out of these four passed. The schools were not then graded. Pupils and teachers were given perfect freedom as to who should take these examinations. Consequently little discrimination was made as to the preparation and qualification of those entering the examination. A large proportion of failures was to be expected. With our present system only those who have finished the eighth grade work will try these examinations, and more satisfactory results may be expected.

Teachers' examinations have been given at different times during the year, and thirty candidates have been examined. Of this number five have been licensed to teach in your town.

Examination of pupils for the State Normal School at Randolph Center were also given by me.

Nineteen different teachers have been employed in the ten schools during the year.

A constant change of teachers is inimical to the best interest of the schools. There are a few strong teachers however who teach continuously in the town.

It is believed that the difficulty of obtaining good teachers for at least a year is partly due to the short school year.

Not only for this reason but also that the year might become more nearly uniform with the other two towns of the union, and that a regular course of study covering an equal amount of work with other towns might be more readily employed; and that the pupils might have the benefit of two more weeks of schooling, I recommend at least thirty weeks of school during the year.

One educational meeting for the union was held on Jan. 21, at Randolph Center. All of your teachers were present with the exception of two. One meeting for teachers of Braintree alone was held in Randolph, and matters pertaining to the welfare of the schools were discussed. Teachers presented papers on assigned topics. It is believed that these meetings were practically helpful to all who attended.

Your superintendent has visited each school once during each of the three terms and in some instances twice.

Short talks relating to attendance, punctuality and the general work of our schools have been given before the boys and girls, to the end that they might take greater interest in their work.

For a detailed statement of teachers, pupils, attendance, etc. of the several schools see statistical tables appended herewith.

I am glad to have this opportunity to thank the Board of Directors and other citizens who have by their willing and valuable co-operation so materially assisted me in my work.

Never has the practical in education received so much attention as at present; never were our schools under greater obligations to train and equip your children for the work of life.

What the world needs and demands is men and women of power ; men and women who are efficient, who can do things, and surely maximum efficiency is to be had only through a healthy symmetrical development of spirit, mind and body.

This development with its vast responsibilities is largely the business of our schools.

Let this then be our watch-word : Better Teachers, Better Equipment, Better Schools, A Better and Brighter Future for our Boys and Girls.

I solicit your further co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. LEWIS, Superintendent

· Randolph District Union Schools.
